Foundry • Diecasting • Investment

Chris Collins
CEO

The specific nature of Synchro³² which is solely developed for the cast metal manufacturer will always win over a standard generic package providing substantial advantage to each of our clients. Such is our passion and dedication to the casting manufacturer we made a bold decision to side step the conventional business model.

In 1998 we made it as simple as this:

- The All Inclusive Suite per user
All Modules - All Upgrades - All New Modules - All Technical Support
- Training
Set number of days per amount of users
- Charges & Costs

We are often asked why our charges are so low; our consistent response is we cannot work out why other ERP providers are so expensive!

All of our charges are available on our web site... we have a fundamental belief in clarity. The customer should have access to the information they want without a struggle.

Synchro is an exceptionally strong company, investing in people from the casting sector. Our view has always been to provide a team of specialists who contribute exceptional support to the client at any stage of implementation, training or technical support.

We have experienced outstanding growth; there are big ideas and new horizons providing every existing and new client with something exceptional. It is the future that matters, these are exciting times.

Watch us from near or far, the future is bright for Synchro and its users
